Australia's Gateway to the future

Our guest speaker for July is Karalyn Day, a local lady who is involved in leading an Australian Revolution.

Australia is poised to recover from the current economic downturn but as we move into the 21st century where will our Nation's wealth come from?

With huge economic powerhouses like China and India developing at astonishing rates, and resource rich countries like Indonesia ultimately going to join this growth phenomenon – how will Australia compete?

Karalyn Day believes Australia's future rests in our intellectual capital, a resource that has been ignored by respective governments for decades. Australia has precious little time to capitalise upon this valuable asset in the dynamic global economic market place.

Karalyn is a founding director of the Pacific Technology Gateway an immense not-for-profit initiative being launched nationally to address this shortcoming in our Nation's development and provide Australia with an essential and defining source of national growth and wealth as it moves into the 21st Century.

Karalyn will be explaining the Pacific Technology Gateway to you and invite us all to join together to secure our future and the future for generations to come."
