

Do it with Flair!

Get ready to shake things up!

Do you often ever find yourself physically at work?
– but mentally lying on a beach somewhere?

Does it sometimes feel like there's too much 'grind' in your daily grind?

What if 'work' and 'play' didn't have to exist as polar opposites in your life?

Jason Jay is a former champion flair bartender (you know, like Tom Cruise in Cocktail) and one of a few truly global bar consultants. Starting out mixing drinks in his father's bar, Jason blazed a trail through the liquor industry, training thousands of staff & managers before eventually being awarded with the Contribution to the Industry Award at the Australian Bar Awards in 2007.

His message is simple yet profound:

It doesn't matter what you do– it's how you do it that really counts.

Whether you're mixing drinks or running a multi-million dollar enterprise, it's the level of yourself that you invest into your role that determines your trajectory.

In his talk Do it with Flair, Jason will explain:

- The paradox of work
- The difference between Alienated vs. Awakened doing
- The relationship between enthusiasm and productivity
